My Old Age Poem

*Let me age gently, Lord,
As others do I know,
And let my thoughts be tolerant
My voice be soft and low.*

*Let me age peacefully
Not bowed by weight of age
Nor sad because my youth is gone
And let there be no tears.*

*Let there be friends, dear Lord,
The friends that I have made
And may they wish to be with me
As birds that seek the shade.*

*My youth be near me where
The setting sun grows cold
May they wish to be with me
Not thinking I am old.*

*Then may I grow thankfully
And peace, to me tenfold
May I smile and call life good
When autumn comes and I am old.*
